This had been planned by Mrs. Williams as surprise, and surprise it was. The evening was spent in informal parlor dance.

THURSDAY AUCTION BRIDGE HAS NOW ADJOURNED

With Mrs. Charles Smith, the newly elected president, the last game of the Thursday Auction Bridge for this season was played. This was a morning game in the cool home of the hostess, with pleasant provision for the warm hour. Only two tables participated. There will be no more comings together for this club until autumn.

MRS. LUDWELL WILLIAMS OPENS HER NEW HOME

For the first time since moving into her attractive new home out on West Washington, Mrs. Ludwell Williams received her friends by special invitation. Not only this, in welcome, but there came the parting pleasant and the bidding God speed to Mrs. W. J. Lincoln in her new home. And still more, the occasion presented formally to the friends of the hostess, her household visitor, Mrs. J. W. Tabor of Walnut Springs. Designed with taste and furnished with even more taste, Mrs. Williams presides over a much admired home as well as a beautiful garden. Both were utilized in this reception. Guests were received and entertained with in the prettily dressed rooms, room where baskets and bowls and vases supplement the more formal decorative plant. No formal line was made except that first greeting was made to hostess, honoree and Mrs. Tabor. Following there was leisure transition with an agreeable assistant hostess at each turn, until the side entrance was reached. From this passage was made into the garden. It had been arranged for the cooling draught of punch with the delicately mixed sandwich. On the punch table the rustic effect was accented with a basket overflowing with daisies above the natural fern mat upon which the bowl sat. Music was heard throughout the two hours in which guests arrived and departed. More than two hundred of these had been bidden, quite a number being bespoken for the entire time. Noticed as remaining were the Mesdames Kate Edmond, Helen Williams, Pauline Breasted, Hester Foster, Katherine Stratton, Florence Fried, Dorothy Finley, Frances Van Briddle, Ida Grand, Enrique Smith, Florrie Neale Cooper, Stella Lacy, Mills of Lorena, Mesdames Harry Williams of Lorena, Alfred Abel, Herman Houk, Alton Sanford, W. DUGGER-STRANGE WEDDING A BRILLIANT EVENT

Taxed to its utmost capacity, the Methodist church at Reisel was the scene of marriage for William Dugger of this city and Miss Lillian Strange of Reisel. Guests from many Texas towns were present, prominent among these being a special party of relatives and society friends from the groom's home. This bride, prominent and popular in Reisel, is the daughter of prominent citizens, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Strange. The celebrants were Dr. J. P. M. G. S.

Two hundred summer students crowded the hall of the Episcopalian church, C. E. B. Literary Society last night to enjoy their annual entertainment to the new comers. Before the program which brought for the spirit of the society and memories of the by-gone days each person was provided with an entertainment card which served to get the new students acquainted with every one present. The program was as follows: Welcome Address, H. G. Moore, summer president.

Vocal solo, Miss Louise Head. Reading, Miss Nellie Lee Hill. Memories, Prof. Donoho. Reading, Miss Slade. Violin solo, Miss Smith.

CITY NEWS BRIEFS

Friends are glad to note the convalescence of Mrs. L. W. Webb, 1123 South Fourth street, who has been seriously ill for the past week at her home.

Mrs. R. H. Berry, 2400 Columbus street, has recovered sufficiently from an operation three weeks ago to be removed from the Providence sanitarium to her home, which was done yesterday. Friends are glad to note that she is on the road to recovery.

Mrs. C. C. Jenkins, one of the oldest residents of the county, is seriously ill at the home of her son-in-law, 1812 Summer street. Mrs. Jenkins is the widow of Joseph Jenkins, who died several years ago, and has lived in McLennan county about sixty years.

Uel Proffitt, driver for I. Friedsam, was taken to the Providence sanitarium yesterday morning suffering from a severe wound over the left eye, caused by the kick of a horse. The accident occurred at Thirteenth and Morrow streets. It is not thought that his injuries are serious.

The Morning News has a new cub reporter. He arrived yesterday afternoon at the residence of C. C. Brown, city editor of the Morning News, 1601 North Fifth street, with a pad in one hand and a pencil in the other. Though his eyes, ears and nose show no abnormal developments the attending physician and the delighted parents agree that all these organs show a decided bent for news, and his father has already booked him for a Fourth of July assignment. The youngster and his mother are getting along nicely and the father hopes to be able to resume work today.

itor may not hear of all which transpire by way of social affairs. Telephone these; but, take the precaution in so doing, to telephone promptly.

Is it not wonderful how fertile our brain becomes with excuses when we do not want to do a thing? Among the first homes to be closed with July for the season is that of Mrs. Herman Mayer. She, joined by the daughters, Mrs. A. L. Marks and Mrs. Sol Gordon of Beaumont, will spend another summer among the Michigan resorts.

A pleasing note comes from the South Side to say that Mrs. M. C. H. Park took advantage of her wedding anniversary to give pleasure to others. In that, friends congratulated Mrs. Park while enjoying her as luncheon hostess.

Be generous with the Band of Mercy today; remember, they call at great sacrifice to their comfort, but with hearts responding to the heartitude, "Blessed are the merciful." They are doing more than their part; do yours by putting the coin into their box.

Is it not satisfying to the hundreds of women and men who worked toward the end now attained, to drive around on these hot summer nights, to see hundreds of children playing in the parks, while the parents enjoy the more quiet chat with the neighbors on the green?

Cards from the Milan-Goodman-Ward-Rush party reached home friends on Thursday. These were called from the San Francisco exposition and report a continuous pleasure in sight-seeing with word of emphasis upon the beauty of the San Francisco exposition.

It was pleasure indeed to the lifelong friends of Mrs. Maggie King Bernhart of Kingville, also Miss Jennie Gribble of Austin, to welcome them for their little visit with Mrs. Minnie Carroll King. These accompanied their father, Dr. S. A. King, from Austin for the anniversary service at the First Presbyterian church. They are now returned home.

The presence of Mrs. T. M. Rhinehart of Dallas with her sister, Mrs. W. B. Knight, reminds that Mrs. Rhinehart is connected by marriage with that woman, Mary Roberts Rhinehart, who is so much in the limelight with her pen these days. It is the latter who is author of the "Street of Seven Stars," and who is contributing such readable articles from the war zone to the Saturday Evening Post.

In leaving for Houston on Friday, little Miss Georgia Lazenby of Sixteenth and Morrow is enjoying a vacation visit with the daughters of our well known and admired Texas poet, Judd Mortimer Lewis. It will be recalled that the Cotton Palace visit of Mr. Lewis found him attracted to this little miss after her presentation at a gold mounted cane. Invitation for the visit was then extended and this is the acceptance.

Subscription accounts are due them, not

They are not required, and they are ad-

HOUSEWIFERY AS A FINE ART.

June brides and those of other months will find much to entertain and inform in an article in the July Fictorial Review by Mabel Potter Daggett entitled, "What Makes the Successful French Housewife?" There will be many brides of this month and of the year round, of course, who will not find it necessary to do their own housework, but many more of them will find it necessary, and we have an idea that all of them would be happier if they had at their command the knowledge by which they could do this work successfully, if occasion demanded, and to give direction to it in case the work is to be performed by servants.

And it is interesting to note in times like the present when there is so great need for economy that the most striking characteristic of the French housewife is that she makes everything count. She is pre-eminently an advocate of non-waste and conservation, even the ashes from her oven finding a use in the household economy.

The author, in describing this French housewife, says in part:

"Nothing in this household is allowed to go to waste. But when it is utilized, it must be done ingeniously.

A spoonful of yesterday's vegetables may grace the center of an omelet, but it will appear that they were put there because they were quite necessary to complete the artistic color scheme. The garbage pail elsewhere in Europe I found very small. In France it is a disappearing institution.
Azalie Vinet has none at all. The thinnest potato peelings in the world go to her chickens. The potatoes have first been parboiled and are 'skinned' while hot.

"In America so many households do not take the trouble to sift their ashes, that we average fifteen per cent of perfectly good coal carried away with our ash cans. In New York's poverty district of Cherry Hill, it is thirty-five per cent of the coal that goes to waste like this. But in Azalie Vinet's kitchen, when the soup meat is finished cooking, there will be carefully collected even the dust that has fallen into the ash drawer from the charcoal fire. It is saved for the laundry, where it will percolate through a heavy linen cloth onto the wash in the tub, to give the clothes that brilliant snowy whiteness that only a French blanchisseuse may achieve.

"This is the housewifery that in France is a cultivated art instead of an annoyance incident to living. A drudgery to be delegated to some one for hire. Azalie Vinet had finished her duties for the day. We sat on the terrace again, and Nanon passed the wine and the plate of little cakes. Below us the orange trees and the olive trees were bathed in the departing golden glow of a flaming sun that was setting behind the dark green pine summit of Mt. St. Peira. 'You see,' said Madame Vinet, 'it's not so much what we earn, it's what we save in France that counts.' There isn't another wife in the world to equal a Frenchwoman,' he told me proudly.
'She's the real helpmate. A man can count on her all the time. Mettre la main a la pate, we say. She's not afraid to put her own hand to the dough.' From the French housewife the most celebrated chefs inherit their high priced art. It comes from her kitchen."

Now that the British government announces it is spending $15,000,000 per day in the prosecution of the war we have an idea Brother Robinson of the Times-Herald will soon be able to place John Bull in the same paper class with Uncle Sam.

THE WORKING WOMAN'S HOURS.

Texas made a decided step forward in the passage of the new 54-hour law for women. That statute, remodeled and greatly improved by the Thirty-fourth legislature after the passage of an almost meaningless act on that subject by the Thirty-third, has now become effective and it is to be hoped that there will be prompt and generous compliance with its provisions on the part of the employes of female labor in this state.

Employers must ever be more considerate of their female than of their male employes, though the rights of all should be fully respected. Women are not by nature endowed with as strong constitutions as men. Their physiques, more delicately constructed than those of men, are not so rigid and cannot stand the heavy wear and tear which hard physical labor involves. The laws of nature impose peculiar tasks upon women in the bearing of children that make it imperatively necessary that their physical and mental powers be not impaired by the doing of excessive work, and no girl or woman should be called upon to perform labor that will impair her constitution or make difficult or dangerous the fulfilling of the office of motherhood.

It is the recognition of this humanitarian principle that has brought about the passage of such laws and we think the limitation of woman's work in commercial establishments to 54 hours per week of six days is an entirely reasonable one. Here is the main section of the law defining the character of employment affected in this state:

"No female shall be employed in any factory, mine, mill, workshop, mechanical or mercantile establishment, laundry, hotel, restaurant or rooming house, theatre or moving picture show, barber shop, telegraph, telephone or other office, express or transportation company, or any state institution, or any other establishment, institution or enterprise where females are employed, except as hereinafter provided, for more than nine hours in any one calendar day, nor more than fifty-four hours in any calendar week; provided, however, that in case of extraordinary emergencies, such as great public calamities, or where it becomes necessary for the protection of human life or property, longer hours may be worked, but for such time not less than double time shall be paid such female with the consent of said female; provided, that this act shall not apply to stenographers and pharmacists."

Another portion of the law provides that girls working in laundries shall not work over eleven hours per day and that they shall receive double time for all hours over nine put in each day. An exception provides that girls and women employed in cotton mills or other factories engaged in the manufacture of woolen or worsted goods may be employed ten hours per day but not more than a total of sixty hours per week. A penalty of not less than $50 nor more than $200 is provided for any employer who violates any section of the act.

The Dallas Board of Education has issued an order that Dallas-made products shall be used as largely as possible in the construction and equipment of the public school buildings in that city. A step in the right direction which might well be followed by boards of education in other cities where factories are located.

The College of Insular Arts at Denton has purchased a cannery with a capacity of 1,500 cans per day and will put up the peaches, plums, berries and other fruit grown in the big orchard of the college. The canned fruit will be employed in feeding the girls at the thirty-four dormitories of the college next winter.

Greenville again demonstrates the fact that she is a live town. Tuesday night witnessed the opening of a municipal natatorium there, the first in Texas. The people of Greenville will not have to go to the Gulf coast to clean up and cool off this summer.

Tuberculosis is a preventable disease, but the United States lost 143,- 000 citizens from that malady in 1913.
Are we a really civilized people yet or have we been deluding ourselves into that belief?

Another means of observing "Safety First" is to purchase some Waco-grown fruit—if you have not grown any for yourself—and can and preserve it for future use.

Dallas will not permit bids for city supplies or work of any character from citizens of that city who are delinquent in the payment of their taxes.

Lest you forget, buy your ice, groceries and meat for Sunday today and permit the ice, grocery and meat drivers of the city to rest tomorrow.

It is not always the gold that glitters; sometimes it is the prospectus,

WHAT IS EFFICIENCY?

The wonderful stand made by the Germans is credited throughout the world to the efficiency secured by the industrial training and the discipline effected by the rigid enforcement of the German system—we are asked to accept the example as a lesson that we should acknowledge our mistake and begin at the beginning to prepare for the future expected of us, observes the Florida Times-Union. First let us understand what is the efficiency desired.

The Chinese can feed a greater population on the same land than the Germans have succeeded in doing; shall we admit that the Chinese have beaten the Germans at their own game? If the Germans continue their system will the necessary result be found in a Chinese civilization? If so, let us beware. In Germany no man, time or strength is wasted—an official properly trained is watching to see that the result needed by the whole is secured by the scientific application and industrious use of every man's capacity. Thus the German ideal proposes the creation of the most capable body of overseers to direct the labors of the multitude; this was the end sought by Southern slavery which accomplished great results but was declared unfit. The like system was enforced in ancient era, and with the result that when a Spaniard killed the heads of the system the nation went to pieces.

Russia's communism is the German system applied in small communities —in each of these the people labor under direction and the product belong to the community; nobody claims the Russian system produces the highest results.

In Germany we see paternalism in full flower and fruit—the necessary result is despotism and a necessary attendant is a military force strong enough to enforce the will of the empire directing body. The final development is the doctrine that might is right and strength is supreme—Bernhardi speaks plainly and bases his logic on that of Machiavelli, which despises faith and recognizes as good only that which serves for the moment the purpose in hand.

Now China supports the greatest number on the smallest stock of resources; is it the highest merit of a system to multiply the species? Germany can produce more merchantable products to the square inch of land and the number of laborers than any of her rivals; is material wealth the highest object of human institutions?

Placed in competition with other races without direction from officials, the Chinese are the most incompetent of races. The German, thrown on his own resources, remains industrious and economical, but is by no means the most capable citizen. Get him outside his system and he finds his self among enemies because of training and his discipline.

Perhaps the better object of human effort is to produce the finest of goods and not the hugest bul-ding of the greatest possible number of cables. Perhaps the finest government would be that which best promoted the production of the highest grain rather than the best dressed man, rather than the best dressed government was made for man, not man for government. The same applies to the individual is conserved dangerous under the German system it is a heresy according to the German view which should be punished death in this world and torture in the next.

The theory of the American government implies the supreme value of the fit citizen; individualism is a weakness in war and may become dangerous in peace, but it always proposes the elevation of the man to a state from which he should be capable of self-direction—when he would need no government but would be sufficient unto himself without wrong to another. Is it better to insist on ascent to a supreme ideal or to deny the possibility of the best by insisting on a fine degree of present service? After all, what is Germany doing under her prescription of scientific direction to a docile population that the South did not do though her ideal was necessary the reverse of belligerent and dependent for its continuance on the maintenance of peace?

The Ford Motor company has decided to enter upon the manufacture of tractor engines as well as auto mobiles and a 2,000-acre plat of ground has been purchased for this purpose near Detroit. The plant will employ 20,000 men, and if the Ford engine proves as popular as the Model car there will be a revolution in the country.

There must be something attractive about a federal job that several federal prisoners at Dallas and sentenced six months in the Dallas have petitioned the court for their sentences a year Leavenworth instead of any flavor.

COLONEL HOUSE SOUNDED HEADS OF WARRING NATIONS ON PEACE

President Wilson has been kept fully informed of the situation at every European capital. The mission of Colonel House, as understood in Washington, was in the nature of a personal undertaking of the president. He went to Europe last January on private business, but combined with it an inquiry into the war situation. He bore with him letters from the president to the diplomatic representatives of the various countries, and he opened the way for informal talks with officials of the countries he visited. He communicated directly to the president the results of these talks, and opened the way for informal talks with officials of the countries he visited.
He acted purely in an advisory capacity and made no formal tenders or representations to anyone. Well informed negotiations for peace. The accompanying photograph of Colonel House, the first he posed for in fifteen years, was taken at the home of his son-in-law at Roslyn, N. Y.

Constitutionality of 8-Hour Law to Be Tested in the Courts

Austin, Tex., June 18.—Constitutionality of the eight-hour law is to be tested in the court of appeals, according to announcement made today by A. L. Garrett, state inspector of the department of labor. Mr. Garrett has just returned from San Antonio where a conviction was obtained and it was fined $100 and costs. This company has decided to test the validity of the act, and is to appeal this

DR. DAWSON PREACHES ON GREAT INVITATION

FIRST BAPTIST PASTOR DELIV-ERS ELOQUENT APPEAL FOR WORKERS.

Tabernacle Revival Begins to Show Results—No Services
Tonight.

"The Great Invitation" was the subject of a strong and appealing sermon preached last night by Rev. J. M.
Dawson in the tabernacle built for the revival on the lawn of the First Baptist church. From the very first it was evident that the service would be fruitful for a large number in the audience gave their heartfelt testimony as to why they were Christians and the whole congregation seemed in harmony with the message which came from the pastor. There will be no services in the tabernacle tonight.

"Taking the text, 'The Spirit and the bride say come, let him that heareth say come; let him that is thirst say come; let whosoever willeth come and take of the water of life.' Speaking on each phrase the pastor said in part as follows:
"The Spirit always says come. The bride here is the church. Do our churches always say come? God forbid that our churches shall ever degenerate into third rate entertainments. Jesus said to the churches, 'As the Father has sent me, so send I you.' The only justification for a church on the face of the earth is to bring the lost to know Jesus Christ, and to give a loving and commanding invitation to a lost world. The minute that the lost world discerns that the church is here only to maintain a dignity and bring about reform it is going to be held in contempt just as a church holds the pastor in contempt that is working for the money that he receives rather than in the interest of the lost souls and the soul welfare of his people."

Next taking the phrase, "Let him that heareth say come," the preacher said that this was an appeal to the Christians and all they that heard the word of God should say "come" to the lost.

"Let every Christian among you be soul winners," said Dr. Dawson. "It is not the preacher's or the deacon's or the Sunday school superintendent's business alone, for this passage says 'Let him who hears say come.'"

He went on to say that the man who has a hope without Christ has a false hope because the scriptures substantiate the fact. "The most valuable thing in all the world is peace with God and the man without God is without peace," continued Dr. Dawson.

Giving as another reason that God's people ought to say to the lost "Come to Christ," he said that without him they were bankrupt—they would have nothing. He impressed this by picturing a skeptic's pleading with death to let him live but in vain, even after he had offered the universe as visitor his pocket book and hand book.

Continuing on, "Let him who is thirst come," Dr. Dawson made the statement that in every heart there was a thirst for God, though many do not know it. "As a heart pant-eth for the water-brooks so panteth the human heart with thirst for the spirit of God," said the pastor.

Closing with "Let whosoever willeth come," Dr. Dawson quoted among his remarks several passages from the Bible such as, "He that cometh unto me I will in no wise cast out," and "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved." In response to the invitation five candidates presented themselves for baptism.

Still a Chance to Get in on Books for Soldier Boys

"The Inside of the Cup," "Queed," and various other interesting books that you have read and laid away and which may appear to be old to you would be fresh and interesting to the soldier boys at the army posts on the Texas-Mexico frontier and at the coast stations in this state, and the Morning News has been designated as the agent through which the people of Waco and Central Texas can send the once-read books which they do not need to these young men who are doing army service.

Nearly two hundred very choice books of light fiction, short stories, travel, humor and light history have been received at this office already for the soldiers and all others that come in between now and June 30 will be included in the list. Waco ought to send 1,000 books and could do so easily if all the people here who have books which they do not read in their libraries would get them out and send them to this office. Persons living outside the city and desiring to help can do so by sending in their books prepared by parcel post or express.
A good book from some good friend who cares for them will, next to a letter from home, form the greatest factor in curing the homesickness of the soldiers. If you are going to make an offering to the soldiers' library, why not today?

Sophies Are Hosts to New Men; Music and Refreshments

Two hundred summer students crowded the halls of the Erisophian and R. C. B. Literary Society last night to enjoy their annual entertainment to the new comers. Before the program which brought for the spirit of the society and memories of the bygone days each person was provided with an entertainment card which served to get the new students acquainted with every one present.

The program was as follows: Welcome Address, H. G. Moore, summer president.
Vocal solo, Miss Louise Head.
Reading, Miss Nellie Lee Hill.
Memories, Prof. Donoho.
Reading, Miss Slade.
Violin solo, Miss Smith.

blood, and builds up the system. A

Friends are glad to note the convalescence of Mrs. L. W. Webb, 1123 South Fourth street, who has been seriously ill for the past week at her home.

Mrs. R. H. Berry, 2400 Columbus street, has recovered sufficiently from an operation three weeks ago to be removed from the Providence sanitarium to her home, which was done yesterday. Friends are glad to note that she is on the road to recovery.

Mrs. C. C. Jenkins, one of the oldest residents of the county, is seriously ill at the home of her son-in-law, 1812 Summer street. Mrs. Jenkins is the widow of Joseph Jenkins, who died several years ago, and has lived in McLennan county about sixty years.

Uel Proffitt, driver for I. Friedsam, was taken to the Providence sanitarium yesterday morning suffering from a severe wound over the left eye, caused by the kick of a horse. The accident occurred at Thirteenth and Morrow streets. It is not thought that his injuries are serious.

The Morning News has a new cub reporter. He arrived yesterday afternoon at the residence of C. C. Brown, city editor of the Morning News, 1601 North Fifth street, with a pad in one hand and a pencil in the other. Though his eyes, ears and nose show no abnormal developments, the attending physician and the delighted parents agree that all these organs show a decided bent for news, and his father has already booked him for a Fourth of July assignment. The youngster and his mother are getting along nicely and the father hopes to be able to resume work today.

Texas Railroads to Get Back $36,000

Austin, Tex., June 18.—Practically all of the smaller railroads in the state are to participate in a refund of $36,- 000 for taxes paid under the Love gross receipts tax law which was subsequently held unconstitutional by the supreme court of the United States.
The legislature has made the appropriation of $36,000 and this money is now available. When this law was passed, the larger railroads refused to pay the tax and carried the matter to the supreme court, but the smaller lines feared the heavy penalties and paid up, now the state is to refund them the amounts so paid.

Expected Deficiency Costly to the State

Austin, Tex., June 18.—Because it is practically certain that the state will go on a deficit by Sept. 1, the state will have to pay higher for supplies purchased by the state purchasing agent for the state institutions, including the eleemosynary institutions.
It came to light today that the state will not be able to pay for supplies contracted for on Sept. 1, the beginning of the new fiscal year, until about Feb. 1, 1916. State contractors will accordingly be forced to discount their warrants in order to obtain the cash from banks.

The discount by banks on state warrants ranges from 2c to 4c, based on the probable length of the deficiency period. With the exception of about $500,000 to be collected in July and August from liquor dealers who are renewing their licenses, little or no revenue will be received by the state until next year.

No Clue to Outrage on 13-Year-old Girl

Elgin, Tex., June 18.—Officers today despaired of learning the identity of the perpetrators of the outrage upon 13-year-old Lillie Hanson Tuesday night, when she was gagged, tied both hand and foot and her head shorn of its long braids of hair. When found the child was in a stupor and medical attention was necessary.

Pool Halls Remain at Floresville, Texas

Floresville, Tex., June 18.—In the pool hall election held yesterday in this school district, the petition was defeated by 31 votes, retaining pool halls.
There were 230 votes cast in the election.

Mrs. L. Thomas Is Out on $1000 Bail

Galveston, Tex., June 18.—Mrs. L.
Thomas, who is accused of having shot and killed her husband, Alfred Thomas, at their home last night, was today released from custody on $1,000 bail to await action of the grand jury.

Sullivan Smith Appointed.
Austin, June 18.—The state fire insurance commission announces the appointment of Sullivan Smith of Fort Worth as an engineer for the commission. Mr. Smith is an electrical engineer and will have his headquarters here.

Lumber Company Moves.
Mt. Pleasant, June 18.—The Brazel-ton-Fryer Lumber company yesterday closed a deal for a lease on the Charley Greer lot, next to the postoffice, and will move their lumber yard from the southeast corner of public square.
Work on the new quarters began today. Their office building will be brick front, and the plans show that the new quarters will be modern and up to date in every particular.

TODAY IS DR. PEPPER DAY; CLIP THE COUPON

ANY DEALER WILL EXCHANGE ICE-COLD BOTTLE FOR PIECE OF PAPER.

Unique Advertising Plan Promises Great Success—Coupon in Today's Morning News.

Don't feel embarrassed. It is only one of the many educational features of the Dr. Pepper company. Clip the coupon right now from the fourth page of today's Morning News, fold it neatly and put it in your pocket if you are a man, or into your handbag, beside the old street car transfer and the samples of the new dress you are going to buy, if you are a woman. Take the coupon to the place of business of any man who handles the products of the Artesian Manufacturing and Bottling works, and exchange it for the real thing that will positively and completely annihilate the thirst that lingers in your throat these hot days. You won't have to go far to find a dealer, as they are everywhere.

Today, like every other day, is Dr. Pepper Day, and especially for those who clip the coupon and present it to some dealer in the product that is making Waco famous.

The idea in taking this rather expensive means of inducing you to drink a bottle of Dr. Pepper is on the principle that once you drink Dr. Pepper you will call for it every time thereafter. The advertisement in today's News cannot fail to be seen, and it is all your fault if you do not enjoy a cold bottle of Dr. Pepper today at the expense of the company.

The Artesian Manufacturing and Bottling company is a Waco institution, and has done much to give Waco publicity throughout the world. Everybody everywhere is aware of the qualities and merits of Dr. Pepper, and whenever people think of Dr. Pepper they naturally think of Waco, its birthplace.

You are invited to clip the coupon and bring it down to the Dr. Pepper plant, and while there go through and inspect the methods and conditions under which this famous drink is bottled. What Dr. Pepper is doing today is only in keeping with the past reputation of the company for pleasing and unusual methods of publicity.

HIPODROME.

"Up From the Depths."

The largest set built at the Mutual studios since David Griffith finished "The Birth of a Nation" here, was used in the four part Mutual Masquerade, "Up From the Depths," a terpiece, showing a girl's betrayal by the last time today, with Courtenay Foote, Thomas Jefferson and Gladys Brockwell in the chief parts. This Brockwell in the chief parts. This interior was constructed to represent the type of life in the cafe and music hall so much in evidence at Coney Island during the summer. An idea of the size can be gotten when it is remembered that over two hundred people appear in the scene in which it is shown.

It is claimed that the extras among them, being a troupe of girls who appear as a chorus, were drilled over a week before the picture was taken. It is here that the girl played by Gladys Brockwell, who is betrayed by the minister, impersonated by Courtenay Foote, is earning her living as a cabaret performer.

To secure proper types in the under-world scenes in "Up From the Depths," a careful search of the Los Angeles slums was made and many of the denizens of the slums were brought to the studio and given temporary jobs to the filming of the picture.

In this way the stars had an opportunity to study at first hand just what they were endeavoring to portray.

Because of the minute attention to detail, together with the powerful story written by Battelle Loomis, the story of man's perdition and woman's downfall and subsequent regeneration, the subject should hold the interest right up to the very last smashing climax.

QUEEN.

Edgar Selwyn in "The Arab" Today

The Jesse L. Lasky feature play company has selected a cast of extraordinary excellence to support Edgar Selwyn, the famous Broadway star, in the production of his own drama, "The Arab." This company includes Theodore Roberts in the highly important role of the Turkish governor, who is the evil genius of the play. Mr. Roberts brings to this character his usual incomparable art, and seems actually to be inspired with the spirit of Mohammedan fanaticism. Others in the company are such Lesky favorites as Horace B. Carpenter, Milton Brown, Billy Elmer, Sydney Deane, Gertrude Robinson, Park Jones and Raymond Hatton.

Many of the scenes of "The Arab" were taken by Director De Mille far from the Lesky studio in the heart of the great American desert. This has resulted in an amazing realism and people who have the good fortune to witness this production may veritably believe themselves to be transported across the seas into the land where the enmity between Christian and Turk is a source of continual danger and such events as those in this thrilling play actually happen from time to time.

"The Soul of the Vase."

Jason, the potter, is consumed by a single desire, to create a flawless vase. His wife, Rene, loves him devotedly, but in his enthusiasm for his art, Jason forgets her existence. Clark, a connoisseur, is struck with Rene's beauty, and falls in love with her. He tries to persuade her to elope with him, and leave Jason to his clay and his kilns—but she repels his ardent wooing and drives him from the house. Meanwhile, in order to give to his wife the desired lustre, Jason has taken his wife's jewels, which he has ground into powder and mixed with the clay. He dreams that Rene will bring to perfection his wonderful vase. He takes the soul of his wife and places it in the red hot kiln. The heat becomes more and more intense. The vase is gradually approaching his

He realizes that it is the soul of Rene which really is crumbling into dust for lack of the love. He seeks her—and all her patience and faithfulness are richly rewarded.

Walton, of the United States bills, who is engaged to Ruth, is assigned to track down the counterfeiters. On a certain morning, as she is about to leave the house, answer to her daughter's question, Mrs. Howard says that she is visiting some friends on Staten Island and will take the ten o'clock boat. That day, after passing several counterfeit bills, she is followed by Walton to Carey's house which is raided. As Mrs. Howard is which is raided. As Mrs. Howard is which is raided. ## The New 1916, 45 Horse Power Buick is HERE $985.00 F. O. B. Flint, Mich.

The car that other Sixes are judged by, the car that has revolutionized the prices in cars of its class. YOU should by all means see and ride in this car at once. It will be a revelation to you. If you don't think it is the best equipped, easiest riding, most powerful and has the prettiest lines of any car that you have ever seen, don't buy it.

It skims over the hills and glides over the rough places with the ease and grace of a bird—the motor runs with the smoothness so eagerly sought after, there are no hills for it—they fade away into oblivion, the cantilever springs make riding so easy that you imagine you are boat riding in still water. The equipment is the best and the most complete ever put on a Buick car; compare it with every other light car within $350 of the price of the Buick and you will be more convinced than ever of the greatness of this machine. It easily sets the pace for 1916 light, powerful sixes; it is also very economical and will make 20 miles to a gallon of gasoline.

You are the loser if you fail to see this car before you buy, no difference what you had in mind to pay—this car will give you a new idea of car values.

Built by the LARGEST EXCLUSIVE BUILDERS OF SIXES IN THE WORLD. Write, phone or call for demonstration at once.

Attendance at Baylor Summer Quarter Rank Greatest in History

First Story Hour on Campus Last Night—University People Sing Old Time Songs.

Attendance at the summer quarter and teachers' normal at Baylor university is greater than at any time before in the history of the university, according to a statement made last night by F. M. Allen, registrar. Mr. Allen said that in spite of business conditions there were at present about thirty more teachers enrolled in the normal than ever before. The regular matriculation in the summer quarter of the college is several more than last summer, which was the largest up to that time. Prospects for a successful summer quarter are brighter than ever before, said Mr. Allen. Degrees will be conferred upon a class of fifteen at the end of the summer quarter, Sept. 3.

Last night on the campus the first of the story hours that are the most pleasant feature of summer life at the university was conducted by Miss Lillie Martin, professor of primary methods. The story of "The Old Pipe and the Dryad" was told by Miss Martin, followed by "The Little Girl" by Miss Lota Pharr. A piano was brought out upon the campus, and the entire crowd gathered around and sang the old songs, such as "Annie Laurie," "Swanee River" and "Old Black Joe."

WILL TAG ALL WAGO IN HUMANITY'S NAME

SIX HUNDRED WOMEN AND GIRLS TO RAISE FUNDS FOR HUMANE SOCIETY WORK.

CAMPAIGN IS WELL PLANNED

Residence Sections Arranged Into Districts That Can Be Covered in an Hour.

Every residence and business house in the city will be visited today by women of the "Band of Mercy" who will exchange for a coin tags bearing the legend "Show Mercy." Funds raised will be used for the work of the Waco Humane Society, which has been organized for two years, during which thousands of animals have been relieved of sufferings and thousands of owners have been taught a lesson in humanity which will not be forgotten. Not the least of the purposes of the tagging campaign is to carry a message of humanity into every home of the city and to acquaint everyone with the work being done by the society.

Miss Kate Friend is in general charge of the campaign. At 8 o'clock this morning when the store opens, the headquarters committee composed of Mrs. K. A. McKinnie, Mrs. J. N. Gallagher and Mrs. R. L. Cartwright will be on hand. Women who own automobiles or carriages have been put in charge of sub-committees, each chairman being assisted by several women and girls of her own choosing in all about 500. These will begin to arrive early and each chairman will receive badges for her party, a supply of tags, and a can into which all coins received will be placed. These cans will be registered and checked in and back again by the headquarters committee.

Miss Kate Friend, general chairman, expects the campaign in the residence sections to be completed in one hour. Sufficient women with vehicles have volunteered to make it possible to assign each only two streets and cover the entire city.

Sub-stations will be established later in the day at Stetler's, Goldstein-Miguel's, Powers-Kelly, Amicable building, Times-Herald building, Sanger's, Rotan's, Peerless building and the county court house. Special committees at each of these sub-stations will canvass the buildings near them.

The following appeal has been issued by Miss Friend, general chairman of the tag day committee: "So far as human ingenuity can plan every house in all Waco will be visited by the Band of Mercy today. Amid intense heat and the season when energy is abated, these women have responded to the call of the dumb brute. Considering the unusual demand upon the public for charity and other good cause, these women, the Waco Band of Mercy, have decided that their personal sacrifice of comfort, for just the one day, can bring desired result, hence they are asking for your loose coin."

"These same women, rallying to the Humane Society, are taking the message of mercy for the patient, cruelly treated, suffering animal to every door. They hope no one will turn them away without a coin."

"The general public should rally to these self-sacrificing women who have the cause at heart. They have more than done their part; now, will you do yours? When the grand return is in the Humane Society, which is doing a wonderful work, hopes to have sufficient fund to do a wonderful amount more. The Band of Mercy, as said, numbers about five hundred."

"Do not let them return to headquarters with a single tag unsold. No uniform price is affixed; give what you can, no matter how small the coin."

CITY SIGNS CONTRACT WITH THE TEAMSTERS

ONE WORD CHANGED GIVES CONTROL OVER EMPLOYING MEN.

WILL PROCLAIM CLEAN-UP

First Week of July Set as Time When Should Swat the Fly and Cut Weeds—Commission Notes.

WHAT THE CITY COMMISSION DID

Passed amendment to Article 79, criminal code, to allow farmers to sell produce on city hall square after 7 a. m.

Amended impounding ordinance to reduce the pound fee to $1.50. Passed resolution pledging not to refund pound fees except in case of fire, flood or storm.

Authorized mayor and city secretary to sign contract with the teamsters' union requiring employment of union men where practicable.

Instructed secretary to advertise for bids for moving city hospital, specifications on file in secretary's office.

Authorized the mayor to proclaim the first week of July as fly-swating, weed-cutting and clean-up week.

Locked doors kept the curious out of the commission chamber yesterday afternoon while the contract submitted by the teamsters' union was being considered. Mayor Riggs in bringing up the contract matter stated that he had objected to several provisions in the contract first submitted by the union, saying that one of these constituted the union the agent of the city in employing and discharging employees, taking this right from the city. The mayor said he had discussed the matter with State Labor Commissioner C. W. Woodman, who was recently in Waco. The present contract, said the mayor, was the result of the conference with Mr. Woodman.

The employment clause of the present contract as first read provided that members of the union should be employed wherever possible in the work of the city. Upon suggestion of Commissioner Cockcroft, the word "practicable" was substituted for "possible," in order to give the department officials more leeway in employing men. It was the agreement of the commissioners that the matter of practicability should be determined by the head of the department employing teamsters. After the contract had been passed on the doors were unlocked by order of the mayor. Newspaper representatives were present while the contract was being considered, but no others except the city officials were in the room.

Will Clean Up in July.

Mayor Riggs will shortly issue a proclamation setting aside the first week of July as a time when all good Waco citizens should swat the fly, cut the weeds, and clean up their premises, and otherwise co-operate to make Waco a spot less town. Weed cutting in the city streets has been under way for several days and great progress has been made. Another mower will start out this morning, being furnished by the street department. Efforts will be made to have the streets and alleys cleared of weeds before July 1, when the citizens have been asked to finish the work by cutting weeds off their premises and vacant lots. Reports of the progress of the cutting were made at the meeting of the city commission yesterday by Commissioners Cockcroft and Dollins.

Only farmers who grow the produce they sell may sell upon the city hall square after 7 o'clock in the morning, according to an amendment to Article 79 of the city criminal code passed at the meeting of the city commission yesterday afternoon. The amendment replaces a disused statute that had lost its force and was introduced upon request of wholesale produce and commission merchants of the city.

Pounding Fee Reduced.

The city impounding fee was lowered to $1.50 through an amendment to the ordinance brought in at the request of Commissioner Cockcroft. A resolution introduced by Commissioner Richards pledged the commission to refuse to remit any part of the pound fee except when animals are released by fire, flood or wind. Some time ago the pound fee was raised from $1.50 to $3, and the practice of the commission had been to remit half of the fee if application was made and some sort of an excuse for stock being at large was presented. Hereafter no refund will be given, and the city books will be relieved of a considerable burden of detail made necessary by the refunding.

Specifications for the use of contractors in bidding upon moving the old city hospital are on file in the office of City Secretary John C. Davis, according to the announcement made by Commissioner Cockcroft. Mr. Cockcroft asked that the secretary be instructed to advertise for bids for moving the building. Bids were advertised for several weeks ago, but the specifications had not been prepared. W. H. Pool and several other property owners of South Waco, appeared before the commission with reference to opening South Fourteenth street from Speight to James. Plans for the distribution of the cost of opening the street were discussed.
